Advise

KAMS advise that in case of any law & order breakdown, don't let off the School or declare Holiday, instead advise by message to the parents to come and pick up the children in person were in children's are protected.

Schools are advised to keep children within the premises fully and transportation arrangement should be provided looking in to the situation.

Teachers or care takers should look in to the children and supervise till all students are send home with parents compromising the regular time of the respective schools.

Note: Management can also take decision as per once local situation within their discretion powers.
